

Re-typed

In the court office, it means that the same case has been assigned a sequential number in a specific recording device, e.g. transferred from another reporting unit, proceedings have been resumed after prior suspension, etc.